

Applications required for acceptance - This elective is a publication class that introduces first-time yearbook students to journalism, graphic design, and photography. Students who have taken the class before will be expected to delve deeper into each of these areas and have a higher level of productivity. The class will use Jostens Yearbook Avenue software and Cannon cameras. It requires time management and self-motivation. Photoshop and/or art photography experience is a tremendous benefit, but not required. The purpose of this class is to document the school year through pictures and print. We have three deadlines throughout the year and each student is responsible for assigned page layouts and photos. Additional items taught are photography basics, Photoshop, writing, organizational skills, computer skills, and team-building.
